Delay-Defying Project Management Solution

Project Management can be challenging in any organization. Setting and maintaining standards for multiple projects, staff, and resource management, and meeting deadlines within budgets can quickly become overwhelming. Fragmented and misaligned Project Management tools compound this situation as they provide a partial picture of project status. As a result, slips occur in the production cycle. These slips are product delivery and specifications delays, impacting customer satisfaction and company revenue. As such, delays become a significant pain point.

Based on Lean thinking and the most comprehensive project management tools, Visual Project Manager App (VPM) explicitly addresses this concern. It represents the status of the most complex portfolios in a single snapshot. Visual review is critical, as you can't fix what you can't see. VPM empowers you to identify the root causes of slips so you can promptly intervene and address the issue.

How Does the App Work?

SOME KEY FEATURES

VPM monitors your multiple cross-functional projects in a single snapshot. This low-code solution with customizable, transparent templates complies with your audits. These templates will show Fever Charts, Buffer Lanes, and build root-cause Pareto Graphs across your portfolio.

VPM app also tracks the status of projects in real-time, identifying the root cause of delays immediately. A red stop & fix signal will alert you to lanes causing delay. This data-driven app gathers information, allowing you to review it in the most efficient visual format. With VPM, you won't look at root causes retroactively but proactively as they occur as you can immediately see and correct errors and delays.
